Just imagine a world with no friction...

A world with no friction!

Think about this scenario and talk about it together. Try to think about as many positives and minuses as you can. There might also be some other interesting things to wonder about....

Top Tips

- Give yourselves time to think first.
- Think about the force of friction in our own lives and when we experience it.
- When is friction useful? When is it not useful?
